SUDDEN SUMMONS OF DEATH COMES TO COL. LAKE GREEN.

Expires At His Home At Falls of Rough Monday
At Noon Without Warning.

WAS PROMINENT IN POLITICAL AND BUSINESS CIRCLES
AND HIS DEATH A GREAT LOSS TO MANY SECTIONS.

Col. Lake Green, one of the most widely known and influential men in this part of the State, died suddenly at his home at Falls of Rough Monday at noon of heart disease.

Col. Green had been in failing health for two years, though his death came as a great shock to his wide circle of acquaintances and from all sides a deep feeling of regret is expressed at the loss his death has caused, not only in the community in which he lived, but to all sections.

In public life Col. Green's influence was felt and at one time he was a potent factor in the political affairs of the State. Years ago he served a term in the State Senate from this district, then composed of the counties of Breckinridge, Grayson and Meade. He represented Grayson county in the Legislature one term. After his retirement from active public life he did not let his interest in affairs wane.

In business life Col. Green's capacity was resourceful and his success was phenomenal. But few men are endowed with the gift he possessed of making capital out of everything he turned his hand to.

The town of Falls of Rough was virtually owned by Col. Green and in his death it has lost a benefactor. He conducted a large general merchandise store, and was the owner of a flourishing flouring mill and two saw mills. He was interested in other enterprises of the town.

Col. Green's land interests were extensive, and he was one of the largest land owners in the State. He owned several farms, aggregating about 6,000 acres, the greater portion of which is in a high state of cultivation. The timber lands alone have netted him a fortune. He was a lover of fine stock, as one could see on a visit to his farm. Col. Green's home has been the scene of many brilliant social affairs. He entertained lavishly and had been host to many prominent people. A lover of company, guests at his home were frequent. The poor and the rich fared sumptuously with him and he was loved and respected by all classes.

Col. Green was seventy odd years of age and was a widower. He is survived by three sons and a daughter—Willis, Preston, Robert and Miss Jennie Green.

The remains were conveyed to Frankfort yesterday and interred in the cemetery there beside those of his wife.

DEATH OF J. TIPTON CONNOR

Infirmities of Old Age Remove Most Valuable Citizen.

Mr. J. Tipton Connor, formerly a resident of this vicinity and one of the best known and most respected citizens, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Joshua Groves, of Rome, Ind., on Tuesday of last week.

Mr. Connor was in his eighty-second year and death was due to infirmities incident to old age. He had been in failing health for some time.

Mr. Connor was born in Perry county, Ind., and came to Cloverport from Rome, Ind., with his wife, many years ago. He purchased a farm about three miles from town and lived there until a few years ago, when his wife died. He then disposed of his home place and has since been living with his children.

There was no more popular man in Breckinridge county than Mr. Connor. He was a devout member of the Methodist church. The burial was at Rome on Thursday.

Those of his children who are living are Mrs. Dan Schaefer, of Hardinsburg, Ind.; Mrs. Joshua Groves, of Rome, Ind.; Mrs. J. Edwin Murr, of Charlestown, Ind.; Robert Connor, of Corydon, Ind.; and Orville Connor, who is principal of the Normal School at Terra Haute, Ind.

Mr. Connor's grandfather, Gen. Samuel Connor, was a soldier in the war of 1812 and fought at the battle of Tippecanoe. He died in 1866 at the age of eighty-six. His grandfather, Lawrence Connor, fought in the Revolutionary War. The two elder Connors settled at Rome in 1806. Lawrence Connor crossed the mountains into Kentucky before the beginning of the last century.

MYSTERY

SURROUNDS DEATH OF
SHELBY T. TRIPLETT

Found Unconscious On Street In Louisville and Dies in City
Hospital—May Be Murder.

Mystery still surrounds the death of Mr. Shelby T. Triplett, of Garfield, this county, who was found unconscious in a alley in Louisville two weeks ago and who died Saturday week at the City hospital.

Murder is the theory advanced by the Louisville police and they are at work in the case.

The evening before Mr. Triplett was found unconscious he had gone to Louisville from his home at Garfield to dispose of a large quantity of tobacco. He had sold a portion of it but had not received the money. He spent the day at the warehouses and it is the supposition that while on his way to a hotel bar dusk he was assaulted by some one who knew that he disposed of considerable tobacco.

At the hospital Mr. Triplett was operated on, but without effect. It was found that some of his intestines had been ruptured.

The body was brought to Garfield on Wednesday and buried there. Mr. Triplett was the junior member of the firm of Richardson & Triplett, tobacco buyers at Garfield, and was well known and popular throughout the county. Besides extensive dealings in tobacco he was a prosperous farmer.

Mr. Triplett leaves a wife, one daughter, Mrs. John F. Morton, of this city, and five sons.

Mr. Morton, son-in-law of Mr. Triplett, was summoned to Louisville by the police the latter part of last week to assist in ferreting out the case. Mr. Morton says that only about ten dollars were missing from the person of Mr. Triplett when he was found, which was not all the money he had in his pocket.

The deceased was sixty-five years of age and a Mason.

GUSTON GIRL A BRIDE.

Reuben Beauregard, Of Missouri, Wins Heart and Hand of Miss Katie Smith.

Last Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock the marriage of Mr. Reuben Beauregard to Miss Katie Smith, took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Smith on Newton Avenue, Rev. L. T. Simmons, of the Methodist church officiating.

The wedding was the consummation of a romance which began about a year ago while Miss Smith was here from Huston, Ky., spending the winter with her brother, G. E. Smith.

Promptly at the appointed time the bride and groom entered the parlor which was tastefully arranged and decorated with bride's roses, and with ribbons drawn from the chandelier and reaching to the four corners of the room.

The bride, carrying a bouquet of bride's roses, and dressed in white tulle, veil, train, posed beautifully near her gallant affianced while the sweet cords of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Mrs. G. E. Smith, died away as the impulsive ceremony began.

Following the ceremony an elegant four course dinner was served in the handsome dining room adorned with pretty ribbons drawn from the chandelier and tied in bowknots hanging gracefully over bouquets of bride's roses on the table.

A number of beautiful and useful presents were bestowed.

The bride, is a comparative stranger in Eldon society, but a charming young lady of winning ways and modest discriminating character gaining warm friends during her few months' stay here.

Mr. Beauregard is one of Eldon's most enterprising businessmen. He came here from Panhandle, Texas, five years ago, on the special train which brought the contractors for the construction work on the Rock Island, and with Mr. Salisbury purchased the Eldon Bakery. By thrift and good business sense he has made the undertaking a success and still has at his command a strong grocery, cullinary and novelty trade. His business methods and gentlemanly character has made him a popular friend with all—Eldon Advertiser, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Smith, of Guston, parents of the bride, attended the wedding.

Mr. June Elder, living near town, is low of consumption and little hopes are entertained that he will long survive.

WHEAT OR NO WHEAT

That is the Question That is Agitating the Farmers Along the River Bottoms.

It is not known to what extent wheat in the river bottoms has been damaged by the overflow, as the waters have not receded sufficient to ascertain the disastrous effects. At present the consensus of opinion among farmers is that the extent of the injury will be enormous, if the destruction is not total.

The farmers claim that the mild winter preceding the flood had so far advanced the crop that the stalks were probably broken and the sediment has covered the plant and smothered it. This is only surmise, however, as nothing definite regarding the condition of the submerged crop can be learned for the present. On the other hand, it is stated that if the plants are not too far advanced in growth and the receding of the waters should be immediately followed by a warm rain, that the overflow will be a blessing.

Farmers say they have known instances when an overflow was a God-send to the growing wheat, but at other times the effect has been just the reverse.

SNOW A BLESSING TO WHEAT.

Young Plants Are "As Snug As a Bug in a Rug."

The snow beat the cold wave here just in time to cover the young wheat plants and protect them from a freeze. The growing crop is just at the stage where a zero spell would come near putting the tender plants out of business. Ordinarily snow does not add to the farmer's delight, but we venture to say that the present fall was a visit most pleasing to him.

Died Sunday Night.

Mattie Green, colored, died of consumption, Sunday night at the home of her father, Mack Green. For seven years she coughed for Mrs. J. E. Keith and was most faithful in her duties. The funeral was held Monday afternoon.

HOW HAWESVILLE

GOT HER BOOZE

When Train and Boat Traffic
Ceased Wagons Toted It
Across Country.

Hawesville got her booze all right. Hawesville came near having a booze famine last week, caused by the flood, but Cloverport averted the catastrophe, by furnishing it in wagon loads.

Good old Cloverport, with all her faults Hawesville loves her still.

The rivers may rise so the boats can't run, the rains may washout the railway tracks, Uncle Sam may not be able to have his mules transferred, and passenger and freight traffic may be at a standstill, but Hawesville must have her booze—and she got it. What though the boats ceased to ply and the trains did not run, wasn't Hawesville thirsty for a dram, and there were horses that could pull and wagons to tote, and roads to haul it over. Well, that is the way Hawesville got her booze.

Cloverport had the booze and Hawesville had the thirst, and when the local supply of the stuff that paints men's noses gave out and the floods stopped railroad and boat traffic some enterprising and accommodating (?) saloonkeeper had an idea; it could be toted in wagons across the country from Cloverport. And Hawesville got her booze.

But let it be said to Hawesville's credit that she does not endorse the liquor traffic, as was shown in the local option election last fall when Hawesville and Hancock county went dry. It was just some fellows who wanted to put in Ball during the last days of the saloon. Anyhow, Hawesville got her booze.

ONCE INLAND TOWN

NOW ON OHIO RIVER.

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 27.—Stanley, an inland town of Daviess county a few days ago, to-night lies on a river which runs before the village stores. The bank of the Ohio river has broken and water is flowing in a torrent through Stanley to Green river, a distance of fifteen miles. The finest farms in Daviess county are being washed away. Stanley is two miles from the Ohio river and 12 miles from Green river.

Clear up the complexion, cleanse the liver and tone the system. You can best do this by a dose or two of Dr. Witt's Little Early Risers. Safe, reliable little pills with a reputation. The pills that everyone knows. Recommended by all druggists.

THE MAIL ORDER HOUSES.

Unless Farmers Stop Patronizing Them Local Merchants Will be Destroyed. People Should Wake up to the Importance of Trading at Home.

"Farmers are always anxious to have a good market for their products, and in spite of the fact that they want to buy from the mail order houses, they want the home town to always be ready to pay good prices for what they have to sell and always be prepared to furnish anything they want in a hurry. Of course, many merchants fail to have the goods particularly desired, and that is one of the main excuses for patronizing the mail order houses, but any merchant can order the goods who will take the trouble.

"To such people the following picture should cause thought of the right kind: Suppose we take a thriving and prosperous community, where there is good farming land, and in the center of it is a fine little city with prosperous stationary, clear, grocery, dry goods, furniture, hardware, implement, harness, drug and general stores, besides hotels, restaurants, broom factory, cigar factory, creamery and numerous other factories and stores and also grain buyers, fruit and produce shippers, livestock buyers, etc. Everyone around this community is prosperous, for each is buying and selling or making and selling something to the others and the wants of all are easily supplied at home.

"A crazy strikes this community to buy of some big catalogue house located in some other part of the country. All those who are engaged in business in the little city buy from the mail order house everything not carried in their own stores.

"How long would it take, before this little city would be entirely abandoned, with no business, its stores closed for lack of patronage, the factories because there were no retail stores to sell their produce, the grain buyers because they did not have any other business to help support them during the months when there was little grain to handle, the produce buyer because he had handled produce for nothing, in connection with his business, and could not continue shipping on the same terms, the miller because the big mail order house could not buy flour, etc.

"This is exactly what would happen in every community if all the mail order houses could have their way entirely, get the parcels post, use it with the rural delivery, make the government, (which is the people), pay most of their delivery charges, if all of the people patronized them.

"Every line of business, except farming would be wiped out, with the exception of the mail order house and the factories it bought from. Most of the factories would go because there was no place to sell their goods when the mail order house refused to buy.

"Does the picture look like prosperity? Every consumer who refuses to buy at home and sends his money out of his community, is helping to bring about such a condition, but evidently does not realize it. Retailers must bring them to realize what they are doing because some are loyal and support the merchant does not make the offense of others less, for they are carrying out their part of the above picture of

SCARF ERS COVERED HIS BODY

Itched Constantly—Scratched Until Blood Flowed—Suffered 10 Years—Doctors and Medicines Were Fruitless—Tries Cuticura and Is Completely Cured

BY THREE BOXES OF CUTICURA OINTMENT

"When I was about nine years old small sores appeared on each of my lower limbs. I scratched them with a brass pin and shortly afterwards the sores became so sore that I could scarcely walk. When I had been suffering for about a month the sores began to heal, but small scaly eruptions appeared where the sores had been. From that time onward I was troubled by such severe itching that, until I became accustomed to it, I would scratch the sores until the blood began to flow. This would stop the itching for a few days, but really places would appear again and the itching would accompany them. After I suffered about ten years I made a renewed effort to effect a cure. The eruptions by this time had appeared on every part of my body except my face and hands. The best doctor in my native county advised me to use arsenic in small doses and a salve. I then used to bathe the sores in a mixture which gave almost intolerable pain. In addition I used a salve, such as iodine, sulphur, salicylic, etc. A Salve, Ointment, and in fact I was constantly giving some remedy a fair trial, never using less than one or two boxes of Cuticura. All this was no good. Finally my hair began to fall out and I was rapidly becoming bald. A few months after, having used almost everything else, I bought a box of Cuticura Ointment, having previously used Cuticura Soap and being pleased with that. For using three boxes I was completely cured, and my hair was restored, after fourteen years of suffering and an expenditure of at least $50 to $60 in vainly endeavoring to find a cure. I shall be glad to write to any one who may be interested in my cure. M. Hiram Mattingly, Vermillion, S. Dak., Aug. 18, 1910. Sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chemical Co., St. Paul, Minn.

HAS MANIA FOR WIFE DESERTING.

Wife No. 2 Of Payton Eskridge

Has Same Experience As Wife No. 1.

Deserting a young wife to whom he had been married only a few months, taking with him all of their savings and disposing of the household furniture, are the charges registered against Payton Eskridge by the woman he deserted. Before his departure Eskridge told his relatives to inform his wife that he had left the State for parts unknown and would not return.

Taking him at his word Mrs. Eskridge came to town Friday ostensibly for the purpose of initiating proceedings for divorce and alimony. She consulted attorney V. G. Babbage and an investigation revealed the fact that their bank savings had disappeared with her recent husband. The furniture he disposed of to his mother and brother-in-law, John Bishop. Mrs. Eskridge went before Judge Wells and had issued an order of delivery for these articles, claiming that they belonged to her and that the sale by her husband was fraudulent and made to defraud her of her rights.

Mrs. Eskridge says she is at a loss to account for her husband's actions as their domestic relations were congenial. She is a daughter of Mr. Martin Lesley and a very prepossessing young woman.

This is Eskridge's second marriage, and likewise his second venture in the role of wife deserter. His first wife was a Miss Hawkins whom he abandoned shortly after their marriage.

Eskridge is the son of Mr. Alex. Eskridge, a substantial farmer of this locality.

This is Worth Saving.

The following simple home-made mixture is said to relieve any form of Rheumatism or backache, also cleanse and strengthen the Kidneys and Bladder, overcoming all urinary disorders, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime.

A well known authority states that these ingredients are mainly of vegetable extraction, and harmless to use, and can be obtained at small cost from any good prescription pharmacy. Those who think they have kidney trouble or suffer with lame back or weak bladder or Rheumatism, should give this prescription a trial, as no harm can possibly follow its use and it is said to do wonders for some people.

Safe, Sure and Speedy.

No external remedy ever devised has so fully and unquestionably met these three prime conditions as successfully as Allcock's Plasters. They are safe because they contain no deleterious drugs and are manufactured upon scientific principles of medicine. WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 30, 1907.

COL. LAFF GREEN.

The News is deeply grieved over the death of Col. Laff Green. For more than forty years this good man has been a kind and generous friend and patron. Always had a good word for us whenever we met him. When a boy selling papers on the street the Colonel never failed to buy a paper and did it in such a way that it was an inspiration. All the good deeds of this man will never be told, but they are known to thousands now living in whose memory Col. Green will always live.

No station on the Henderson Route has developed more business in proportion to its locality and population than the hustling little town of Ekron. Twelve years ago when Zack Cox took hold of that station the business amounted to less than $2,500 a year. Under his management and untiring work and energy and fair treatment of the people the business has grown immensely. For the year of 1906 the business amounted to $10,387.82. It certainly speaks well for Mr. Cox's ability as an agent and trade traveler.

That is very happy and a generous one, the giving away of an Elbert wagon by the enterprising firm of H. F. Beard & Co. The Elbert is one of the best made, finest finished wagons on the market. A real beauty in the wagon line. This offer ought to bring many dollars of good business to this firm.

The town of Custer, in this county, is to have a bank. It will open about the first of March or April. It is to be a branch of the First State Bank, at Irvington, and Mr. Suter, the present assistant cashier of that bank, will be the cashier of the new institution. The First State Bank will increase its capital stock to $20,000, all of which has already been taken by the business men and farmers at Custer. There will be no question about the success of this bank. Custer is one of the best and most prosperous communities in the county. A fine tobacco growing section and is made up of a lot of good farmers who know how to make money farming. We predict that the Branch will outdo its parent, in a little while.

As the high waters recede and the inundated lands are again coming to view farmers are beginning to realize the loss they have suffered from the overflow. Lands wasted, crops ruined, fencing destroyed, buildings damaged, and loss of stock are some of the disastrous results of the flood. Years of honest toil and money spent in improvements have been carried down stream with the current. The farmer in the lowland has truly suffered, but undaunted he will come again. It takes courage, patience and time, but the farmer is equal to the emergency.

BISHOP HOLSEY SAYS: "PE-RU-NA IS A BLESSING."

He Declares Pe-ru-na to Be a Triumph of Medical Science, After Twenty Years Bondage to Catarrh He Is Relieved By Pe-ru-na.

A Magnificent and Sovereign Remedy. Having Tried Many Remedies and Failed to Find a Cure, Tried Pe-ru-na and Was Promptly Relieved.

The Bishop's Strong Tribute to Pe-ru-na.

L. H. Holsey, Bishop C. M. E. Church, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I have found Peruna to be a great remedy for catarrh. I have suffered with this terrible disease for more than twenty years, until since I have been using Peruna, which has relieved me of the trouble. I have tried many remedies and spent a great deal of hard-earned money for them, but I found nothing so effective in the cure of catarrh as the great remedy Peruna. I feel sure that Peruna is not only a triumph of medical science, but it is also a blessing to suffering humanity. Every individual who suffers with respiratory diseases will find Peruna a magnificent and sovereign remedy."—L. H. Holsey, Bp. C. M. E. Church.

A public speaker cannot afford to have catarrh. Even a slight catarrhal looseness of the throat becomes intolerable. This is especially true of the minister who is called upon to preside at religious functions of all sorts.

OF JEWISH TRUTH.

The Allgemeine Rundschau, Vienna, in an article on the Jewish question and anti-Semitism, has this to say as to Jewish truth: "If we could only induce our own lower class to acquire the Jew's truth, his industry, his sense of order, his scrupulous exactitude, his religious loyalty and love for his family the Jew on his darker side would appear far less dangerous to them than he is at present."

By way of interesting experiment, one would be to conduct an inquiry into the station, wealth and religion of visitors to the various public houses, the following result would transpire: A large number of the guests would be Christians who would do far better to save than spend their money in alcoholic refreshments, gaming and tobacco. There might be a few Jews, but at the most they would content themselves with a cup of coffee.

An Ancient Hebrew Bible.

The highest amount ever offered for a single volume of an ancient Hebrew Bible, was this week offered for a number of wealthy Jewish merchants of Venice to Pope Julius II. for a very ancient Hebrew Bible. It was then be offered for an original copy of the Septuagint version made from the Hebrew into Greek in 277 B. C., and copies of the Hebrew text having been prepared at that date for the use of the seventy translators. The offer to Julius was $20,000, which, considering the difference between the value of money then and now, would be our day represent the princely sum of $300,000. Julius was at that time greatly pressed for money to maintain the holy league which he organized against the Turks, and in spite of his lack of funds he declined the offer.

Weight of a Lion.

"What does a lion weigh?" Ask that question of any acquaintance and see what he will say. Those who best know the lion are the king of beasts and how small his little body really is will probably come furthest from the truth. About 300 to 350 pounds is the weight of an African lion. His bone is solid and heavy as ivory. The tiger runs the lion very close. A Bengal tiger killed by an English officer scaled 320 pounds. A tiger of this size has, however, considerably greater muscular strength than the biggest lion.

Milners' Best Customers.

The forty best million sales of flour consumed yearly in the United Kingdom are mainly eaten in the form of bread. In the house of the king the best loaves of bread is sparingly eaten, but among the middle classes and in workmen's homes it forms a considerable portion of the diet. As the latter class predominate and as their families are the most numerous, it is not surprising that the children under sixteen consume about three fifths of the total flour sold in the United Kingdom. In a commercial sense, therefore, the children are the millers' best friends.—London Milling.

Rule the "Roast" or "Roast?"

Stevens Gardner, an under cook in the Cardinal Wolf Wolfley's house, and afterwards allowed of kingly Henry the eighth to be a master cook, and his principal cooks for a long time, had the rule in the king's house as to which of the two was to be master cook and as to which was to be master cook before him, as he yelows upon his cheek that his Lord of Warwick gave him, may bare witness.—Spiritual Physic, 1555.

Big Differences.

"What! said the judge. "You expect me to send your husband to prison when you acknowledge that you threw five fatuous at him and he only threw one at you?"

"Yes, that's all right, judge," said the late woman, "but, then, the one he threw hit me."

Conterfetes.

"They bill and coo a good deal," said "That's all a bluff."

"Then you think they are only mock turtles?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

GRUB STREET IN NEW YORK.

A Gastronomical Assignment and a Fate of an Epic.

A story is told of a poet who came to the metropolis with a completed epic. This found no acceptance, so after cursing the stupidity of the public and the publishers he took to writing "Sunday stuff." Soon the matter of fact attitude of the workers around him, with the practical view of the market he acquired, led him to doubt the literary value of the work he had done in the sentimental atmosphere of his native place.

Frequently a commission to write a column of humor a week came to him, and he cut his epic into short lengths, tacked a squib on each fragment and eventually succeeded in printing it all as humor at a price many times larger than the historic one brought by "Paradise Lost."

Another newcomer brought unsalable plays and half notions of the austerity of the artistic vocation. Three months after his arrival he was delighted to get a commission to write the handbook a utilitarian publisher presented to sell to visitors seeing the metropolis.

This commission brought not only a fair payment for the manuscript on delivery, but involved a "vital necessity" consideration. The title of the work was "Where to Eat in New York" and its preparation made it necessary for the author to dine each evening for a month in a different cafe at the proprietor's expense.—James H. Collins in Atlantic.

HARRY THAW ON TRIAL

Talesman Qualify as Jurors in the Celebrated Murder Case.

EACH EXAMINED CAREFULLY

Character of Defense to Be Set Up. Not Disclosed by the Line of Questioning by the Prisoner's Counsel. Relatives of Young Thaw in Court. Attorney Jerome's Part.

New York, Jan. 25.—Five jurors have been secured in the trial of Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White, 30 taxmen having been examined. The jurors accepted are: Deming B. Smith, retired manufacturer; Charles Pecke, a shipping agent; Henry C. Harney, a piano dealer; George Pfaff, a dealer in machinists' supplies; Arthur S. Campbell, 42, superintendent of telegraph construction.

New York, Jan. 24.—The trial of Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White, the architect, last June, is now well under way. Proceedings have been made in the selection of jurors, each taxman being carefully examined when called before court. The examination of each taxman was followed with the keenest interest, and it was thought the line of questioning by the attorneys for Thaw would develop the character of the defense they are to set up. There was disappointment in this respect. The defendant's counsel seemed perfectly willing to accept any proposed juror who satisfactorily answered the questions put by District Attorney Jerome, who personally conducted the examination. The defense preemptively challenged two taxmen, however, who gave the right answers. Mr. Jerome asked each taxman in turn if he would be influenced by the so-called higher or unwritten law, to the execution of the sentence of the state as they would be laid down by Justice Fitzgerald. There was none to say he would not accept the court's ruling as to all questions of law. On the question of the execution of the law as it would be laid down by the state, Mr. Jerome asked each taxman if he would be influenced by the so-called higher or unwritten law, to the execution of the sentence of the state as they would be laid down by Justice Fitzgerald. There was none to say he would not accept the court's ruling as to all questions of law.

Thaw sat at the table apart from his counsel. At times he seemed to take a lively interest in the examination of the men summoned before him, his face, leaning well forward and holding his hand to his ear to catch every word that might fall from the lips of the taxmen. As he would seem listless, and his eyes, deep set and having something of a stare, moved about the courtroom. His face was pallid, doubtless due to his seven months' confinement in the Tombs. Thaw is fully six feet in height and is quite thin. He wore a dark blue sack suit and had always with him a plaid shirt coat.

Relative of Thaw present were Mrs. William Thaw, the prisoner's mother, Mrs. George Carnegie, wife of the Countess of Yarmouth, sister, Mrs. Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw, wife of Edward Thaw, brother.

SHIP SUBSIDY.

President Advocates Legislation to Help Trade.

Washington, Jan. 24.—The president sent in Congress a message urging legislation to help shipping and trade by encouraging the building and running lines of large and swift steamers in South America by the United States. He says the urgent need of this country making an effort to do something like the share of its own carrying trade on the ocean was called to his attention by the experience of Secretary Root on his recent South American tour. He said that steamship lines in this country are as much a part of the commercial system as the employment of consuls to promote business. The president said the proposed law, which has been discussed in Congress, is in no sense experimental, but based on the best and most successful precedents, as for instance, the recent Cunard contract with the British government. The president discussed the bill before the committee, and says "it would be creditable for us to surrender to our commercial rivals the great commerce of the ocean, the great commerce we should have with South America, and even our communication with Hawaii and the Philippines."

Abolishes Pension Agencies. Washington, Jan. 25.—The House voted to abolish all pension agencies throughout the country, and to centralize the payment of pensions in the city of Washington. This action was taken on the pension appropriation bill after a long and bitter fight. The bill, carrying $125,000,000 in round numbers, was passed.

Another Message.

Washington, Jan. 25.—President Roosevelt sent to Congress a special message for a model insurance law in the District of Columbia.

TRAIN SHATTERED.

Carload of Powder Explodes, Mangle Sixty Persons.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 21.—From the ruins of the Four passenger train No. 2, which was destroyed Saturday night by the explosion of a carload of powder as it passed a freight train at Sanford, Ind., two dead and thirty-two injured and mangled bodies were recovered from the wreckage. At least 35 persons were injured, several fatally and a number severely.

The explosion was felt for thirty miles, many believing it an earthquake. The three coaches of the passenger train were dented. The entire train south of this city on the Ohio river division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. The dead, Harry Taylor, engineer Parkersburg, W. Va.; L. R. Rowland, fireman, Graveland, O.; George Whitney, conductor, Marietta, O. Allen Kane of Parkersburg was terribly cut and perhaps fatally hurt. The accident was caused by a sudden rattle as the result of a landslide and the entire train of 14 cars toppled over the river bank. The dead were horribly mangled and believed to have died instantly.

The train was literally hurled to pieces by the terrible force of the explosion. Huge masses of iron were found hundreds of feet from the track. The tank of the passenger locomotive was hurled nearly 100 feet, landing in a gravel road. Two passenger coaches and one baggage coach were consumed by fire which broke out in the wreckage. The freight train which was hauling the car of powder was badly demolished. Eight freight cars were wrecked and burned. The others were pulled out of danger. Not a home in Sanford escaped. Windows were shattered, dishes and furniture broken, and in some instances doors were torn from their hinges. The train was an accommodation passenger train running from Indianapolis to Mattoon, Ill., and was destroyed at 6:50 p. m. Citizens of Sanford worked heroically to release the imprisoned passengers and did all in their power to succor the injured. A revised list of dead and injured shows 25 dead and 32 injured.

PASSING OF ALGER.

Michigan Senator's Death Was Due to Heart Trouble.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The funeral services over the remains of Senator Russell A. Alger, who died suddenly of heart disease, will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the family residence in this city. The body will be taken to Detroit, Mich., for burial.

Senator Alger was born in Michigan, Oct. 27, 1838. He was an orphan at 12 and worked the next seven years on a farm to defray expenses of attending school at Richmond Academy in the winter. Two winters he taught school. In 1859 he was admitted to the bar and began the practice of law at Cleveland. He went to Michigan in 1860 and began lumbering in a small way. A year later he enlisted in the civil war, served as captain, then major, and was subsequently breveted major and brigadier general. He was governor of Michigan from 1885 to 1886, a leading candidate for president in 1892, and a Republican national convention in 1898; one term was commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, secretary of war of the United States from 1907 to 1899 and elected to United States Senate in 1903. His term would have expired March 1, 1907.

Sweetenham's Action Not Upheld.

Washington, Jan. 23.—An expression of gratitude from Governor Sweetenham of Jamaica for the sympathy and aid extended by the United States to the victims of the disaster on that island; the publication of the text of a graceful note from Kame Howard, the British charge here, conveying the regrets of Sir Edward Grey, the British principal secretary of state, on account of the incident, and a cable report from American Vice Consul Orell at Kingston were among the developments in the now famous controversy between the governor and Rear Admiral Davis. While Governor Sweetenham's message is couched in the most polite terms, the British charge here, nevertheless, are not through with the matter as far as the governor's concern.

Albino, N. Y., Jan. 23.—Seven men were killed and at least 12 injured on the New York Central, Mohawk division, about half a mile west of this city, by the collision of a light engine with a caboose filled with laborers. The workmen, about 25 in all, had been at work between here and West Albany, where they were on their way back to this city. The caboose was being pushed by an engine, and the colliding locomotive going west crashed into the car. All the men who were injured were residents of this city or Rensselaer, and most of them were Italians.

Doubsburg, Ky., Jan. 25.—John D. Gregory, cashier of the People's bank, was assaulted by Edward Gregory, a retired marshal of the town. It is said that Edward Gregory attempted to rob the bank after he had assaulted the cashier. He walked into the bank as the cashier was arranging the time clock and struck him a blow over the head with a hatchet. The cashier fell to the floor and cried for help, and the assailant fled to his home. His house was surrounded by a posse of citizens, who overpowered Gregory. The Gregorys are not related.

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 23.—The two houses of the legislature voted separately for United States senator, giving Stephen B. Elkins a big majority for re-election for the third time. The vote in the senate stood: Elkins 24, Cornwell 5. In the house: Elkins 57, Cornwell 25. Senator Elkins was not in the city.

OHIO RIVER RECEDING.

Damages Will Run Far Into the Hundreds of Thousands.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 25.—The river continues falling here at the rate of one-tenth of an inch per hour. The stage is 58.5 feet.

Cincinnati, Jan. 25.—Mayor Dempsey has issued orders to the police to confiscate food and fuel where needed for relief and where dealers attempt to extort unreasonable prices for such necessities. This action was taken because of numerous reports of extortion in charges for transportation and for relief supplies. Those attempting extortion will be arrested.

A day after the river passed the crest of the flood at this point, the river had gone down one foot, and the slow recession of the waters continued steadily. Relief organizations redoubled their efforts to care for those who were suffering for lack of shelter or food. Many instances of peculiar hardship were reported and new cases of needy families were hourly added to those to be provided for. The railroad began preparations for the resumption of regular traffic, even though assured that it would be several days before the tracks would be fully clear and safe. The river reached a 65-foot stage here. The damage will run far into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Levee Gave Way.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 22.—With a roar which could be heard for miles the Wahab river levee opposite the southern part of the city gave way. The water tore away 400 feet of the embankment and a torrent poured into Taylorville, a suburb on the west side of the river. Thousands of dollars' worth of property will be damaged and between 300 and 400 residents of Taylorville were forced to abandon their homes.

Great Flood.

EXPLOSION.

Kills a Score of Men at Work in a Colorado Colliery.

Trinidad, Colo., Jan. 24.—Twenty miners, according to the most authoritative information available, were killed as a result of an explosion that occurred in the Colorado Fuel and Iron company's mine near Primero, 20 miles west of this city. It is said that the explosion had been heard by the company. Two of the dead are Frank Hobbs, miner, and R. J. Lumley, fire boss. The names of the other men killed have not been learned, as the shift boss who checked up the men who went into the mine is missing.

Charges Against Bailey.

Austin, Tex., Jan. 25.—The special committees appointed by the two branches of the state legislature to investigate charges preferred against United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey met in joint session. The session, was, for the greater part, executive. While the proceedings were not made public, it is believed that the additional charges preferred by Representative Cocke, wherein it is charged that Senator Bailey used his official position to manipulate land deals in Indian Territory to his private gain, were considered. Because of the grave character of the charges, involving the possible violation of a federal statute, the committee has decided to limit the range of the inquiry until more definite information can be secured.

Shir-wrecked Japs.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 25.—Eighteen shipwrecked Japanese seamen taken from the sinking Japanese schooner "Mikasa" were landed here, 140 miles off the Japanese coast. The Japanese had been entirely without food for 10 days. The schooner left Mako Dec. 18 for Kobe, and had been blown off shore and badly strained in a southwest gale. She was abandoned and fire was put to her to remove the danger from the path of shipping. Captain Iyagaki and crew were taken in charge by the Japanese consul and will be returned to Japan by him.

Charmers Shonts Resigns.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The White House has announced the resignation of Theodore Shonts as chairman of the Isthmian canal commission, the same to take effect not later than March 4. Mr. Shonts has been elected president of the Interborough Metropolitan company, which will control rapid transit and many surface lines in New York. No announcement was in New York.

Bailey Elected Senator.

Austin, Tex., Jan. 25.—United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey was re-elected to the United States senate from this state by a vote, in two branches of the state legislature, of 108 to 65. In the senate the vote was 19 in favor of Bailey and 10 against him, and in the lower house Senator Bailey carried 55 votes and 35 were cast against him.

Colonel Blake a Suicide.

New York, Jan. 25.—Colonel John P. Blake, who organized an Irish brigade for service in the Boer war in a war against Great Britain, committed suicide in a Harlem boarding house by inhaling illuminating gas. Mr. Blake, 40, had been in a daze for some time, and was very much discouraged over his prospects.

THE EBBERT!

KING

of The Road Farm Wagon!

Given Away Absolutely Free!

This is not a misleading statement, but an absolute fact!

An excellent, first-class farm wagon, complete, including running gear, bed and spring seat, high class, three inch skeln--a wagon that we do not sell for less than $67.50.

We are morally sure that we have the best "General Farm Wagon" on the market, and to convince our patrons of this fact, and to thoroughly advertise our unexcelled wagon, we are going to "do as we say," Give this Wagon Away.

For excellence in construction, neatness in appearance, general strength and durability, it is unsurpassed.

All heretofore weak points in other Wagons have been studied carefully for years, and strengthened in the "EBBERT." Iron and steel without a weld, being used whenever and wherever necessary.

It is fully and absolutely guaranteed against inferior workmanship or material, in any way whatsoever.

"Seeing is believing"

An often quoted, but true statement. We propose to have this wagon on exhibition here in our store after the first of February, 1907, where you may examine it to your own satisfaction.

It is put up of the best hickory, oak and poplar throughout.

Poplar being used in the construction of the bed only, and the running-gear being constructed wholly of oak and hickory.

The "EBBERT" skeln is guaranteed against breakage in use from any cause, and any skelns of this wagon, broken in use are brought back, and new ones furnished free of charge.

We do not hesitate to make this offer, because we know they can not be broken in any reasonable use to which a Farm Wagon may be subjected.

Painting.

The painting of the wagon is superb, and of the highest order. It is at once a thorough protection to the wagon, and particularly pleasing to the eye.

Strength and durability

Are insured in the "EBBERT" over any other Wagon, because of the lack of bolt holes through the parts most constantly in use. Clips being used where bolts are ordinarily used, thus giving strength, while it detracts nothing.

Conditions Upon which this Wagon will be Given Away!

Beginning with the first day of February, 1907 and ending with the last day of April, 1907, we will give to each and every cash purchaser a rebate ticket showing amount of purchase, printed on pink paper. At the expiration of this period these tickets are to be presented, and will be counted by disinterested parties. To the person presenting tickets amounting to the greatest sum, purchased of us during the above named period, we will award the above described

"Ebbert" Wagon Absolutely Free!

Remember, our 5 per cent. rebate, redeemable in merchandise, is open just the same to each and all of our customers, and those who enter the race to compete for the wagon, who fail in securing it, may apply their cash tickets in the usual way, in any line of merchandise we carry. Every one will have this liberty save the successful competitor who will receive the wagon in place of the rebate.

REMEMBER This opportunity begins with the FIRST DAY OF FEBRUARY, 1907, and ends with the LAST DAY OF APRIL, 1907.

Hoping to have each and all to compete for this greatest offer of the season, which we will verify to the letter, We are,

Yours very truly,

B. F. BEARD & CO.,
